

Overwhelmed by the business of tennis? Is it hard to keep track of your lessons, students, expenses? Are you making a profit? Can you plan for a vacation? We get it...

That's why we've teamed up with Google Sheets master, Guy Vidal. In this 3-Part Virtual series, Vidal will show you how to use Google Sheets to easily budget, manage and grow your tennis coaching practice.

At the end of this course Vidal will provide you with a powerful and simple tool to grow your business and derive more financial security from teaching tennis.

Here's what this course covers!

- 👉 Google Sheets Basics
Instantly learn how to create budgets, lists & tables.
- 👉 Profit & Loss Basics
Learn how to track all your revenues & expenses on a monthly or annual basis and make sure you're making a profit.
- 👉 Cash Flow Basics
Learn how to create a table that will monitor your month-by-month cash flow, and project it into the future, helping you plan your business expansion and avoid financial stress.

There are just a few days left to register for the course! This three-part series is just $97 and will take place on April 19, April 26, May 3, 12 - 1:30pm EST. It is limited to 30 participants, so purchase a ticket today if you want to get a seat in this virtual course!

Reserve a Seat →

After earning an MBA from McGill University in Montreal, Canada, Guy Vidal moved to Silver Lake, Los Angeles, where he founded a management consulting practice, a real estate investment company & a "Business Literacy" teaching practice. He's tutored and given seminars in business literacy to groups ranging from tennis tour pros, tennis coaches, medical students at Georgetown University and high school students. Vidal received formal training in photojournalism and is a certified tennis instructor. His passion is sharing knowledge and skills with others.